MR. KIRK VISITS FAIR

TAKES IN NORTHERN CITY ON RETURN FROM BUSINESS TRIP EAST

Bakersfield, Cal., Oct. 27, 1915.
Dear "News":

I have just spent a few days, with my family, at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The weather was perfect, the show splendid, and altogether it was one of the enjoyable experiences of my life.

Many who are much abler than I have written of the glories of the Exposition, so I will not attempt that, but will say to any who may not be privileged to attend it, that there is a permanent "show" in San Francisco, of which most people have heard but little, but which is really an exposition in itself.

I refer to the "Museum" in Golden Gate Park. We went out there on Sunday afternoon, and were astounded at the multitude and character of the exhibits. There is enough of value contained in that building to interest any intelligent person for three or four days, and our regret was that we could give it only that many hours.

Some of the statuary we thought superior to any which we saw at the fair, and is among the best anywhere. The paintings, all by California artists; the Indian curios and relics; the archeological exhibit; the Napoleon room, etc., etc., altogether forms a collection of the most interesting matter imaginable, and I had no idea there was anything like it in the state. While all this, of course, belongs to the city of San Francisco, it is ours, to all intents and purposes, and we should be proud that we have such a permanent show so close at hand, which can be enjoyed at any time that either business or pleasure takes us to San Francisco.

On Monday, while lunching within the grounds, a lady at an adjoining table leaned over toward a lady at our table, whom she didn't know, to ask her some questions, and they began to dilate on the beauties of San Francisco and to speak disparagingly of Los Angeles and Southern California. She "got out her hammer" and made many knocks, chief of which was that she had heart trouble and could scarcely drag herself a block or accomplish anything in Los Angeles, but could walk miles in San Francisco, and felt like a different person. She made it so strong that it was really ludicrous. Something had gone wrong with her in Southern California and she blamed the country and the climate for it all.

This leads me to the thought that it is our attitude of mind, and the viewpoint which we take which largely determines our likes and dislikes of localities, individuals, or what not. On my travels in Nebraska and in trains, I met many people who were delighted with their trips to California, and had only praise for the Expositions, country and people, while others, from the same locality, saw only to criticize.

When old neighbors and friends asked me whether Nebraska didn't look mighty good to me, I would always reply that Nebraska was a mighty fine state and that its residents had a right to be very proud of it, that I never allowed anybody to run it down in my presence without resenting it, but that California, in addition to its fine climate, also had agricultural advantages and resources which the Easterners were prone to overlook, and that while development by irrigation is a slower process than in a country where crops are produced by rains, the agricultural products of California would some day far exceed those of any other state.

There is need for all of us. Each state has its place and each city its destiny. If I were looking for my ideal place I would include some features of Nebraska, but more of California—some of San Francisco, but more of Los Angeles. The laws of compensation will not permit any one city or locality to have all the good things, and isn't it fine that this is so? Also that there is such diversity of opinion?

Some of us think that our beautiful Southland has about all the people in it now, who can make a living under present conditions, yet we all try to induce our friends and relatives to come with us. We are destined to have hundreds of thousands more, and each will find a niche somewhere.

I expect to refill mine shortly, by being home in a day or two.

WHERE ART REIGNS

MRS. F. W. FURBECK OPENS NEW HAND-PAINTED CHINA STORE ON BRAND

One of the latest additions to Glendale's business undertakings is the art store, which is to be opened Monday by Mrs. F. W. Furbeck, on Brand boulevard, between Fifth and Sixth. This store is a completely new building erected on Mrs. Furbeck's own lot, on the west side of the boulevard. The building is a presentable brick edifice, 65 by 25 feet, with a back porch 10 by 12 1/2.

The front part of the store is a large showroom, which is tastefully fitted up and contains a display of fine hand-painted china and other artistic productions. Mrs. Furbeck does all this work herself. For several years she has had a business of this nature in Los Angeles and has a large clientele of purchasers in that city. Being the owner of several lots in Glendale she thought it would be well to make use of some of them. Consequently she built this handsome and commodious store, which has a set of living rooms in the rear. There is a large kitchen fitted up in modern style, a spacious bedroom, bathroom, sitting room and ample closet accommodation. The front show room is tastefully finished with oak paneling and a continuous shelf around the walls. On this and on quaint tables and in various artistic cupboards are displayed a wealth of beautiful hand-painted china.

"I learned my art chiefly from my mother," said Mrs. Furbeck. "My mother was an English artist of some standing. She was a specialist in the painting of tapestry and much of her best work is in the possession of persons of high rank and good taste on the other side of the Atlantic. Most of my own art I learned from her; although I also studied under other artists of note."

"All of this china comes from abroad. The greater part of it comes from Bavaria and from Austria. In Munich and in Vienna and in many other cities of these two countries the very fine and delicate china to be seen in this store is manufactured. Just see how fine is the quality of this china clay. Common china such as is made in this country will hardly take on the delicate colors used in this art and will not stand the furnace heat satisfactorily."

"I draw my subjects from all places. Here are sea pieces; Dutch scenes with the familiar canal and the windmill; old English lanes, shut in by hedgerows; quaint village churches; little bits of French landscapes; Flemish scenes, corners from Belgium and a hundred other transatlantic views. Here, too, are American scenes, bits of the New England coast, scenes near La Jolla and others."

"Every taste can be suited in this store. I have paintings on every imaginable piece of pottery—teapots of every size and style, handkerchief boxes, glove boxes, toilet sets, trays, kewpies and many other articles, all artistically adorned and carefully finished. There is nothing "cheap and nasty" here. My idea has always been to create beautiful things and to sell my work reasonably. I hope to have a satisfactory opening Monday."

ODDFELLOWS OF GLENDALE

If anybody has imagined that the Oddfellows of Glendale have dropped out of existence that individual might visit the hall of the order and take a look at the scene of life and activity that presents itself there on lodge nights. Not only is there nothing morbid about the order but there is much that indicates that a spirit of progress is animating the members. With the addition of a new station and a new altar the hall has the appearance of the home of an enterprising and up-to-date organization. Five new card tables and an additional pool table now afford opportunity for the amusement of a large party every night. That these improvements are appreciated by the members is apparent from the increased attendance on lodge nights and the interest that is being taken in the work.

One of the most enjoyable and pleasant evenings recently spent by the brethren was the night of Oct. 28, when a large assemblage found pleasure and profit in the "good of the order" session. Stories were told and many excellent suggestions were made for the betterment of the order. Refreshments were served in the anteroom and a very good and pleasant time was enjoyed. The popularity of these gatherings is growing every week. All members of the order are urged to attend. Thursday evening, Nov. 4. Two contests are in progress which cannot fail to prove interesting to the brethren of Glendale Lodge, 388 I. O. O. F., Third and Isabel.

Too much talk causes more trouble than does too much thinking.

SAN FRANCISCO HOST

MAYOR OF EXPOSITION CITY INVITES PEOPLE OF GLENDALE TO VISIT FAIR

Dear Mr. Mayor, Glendale, Cal.:

As Mayor of San Francisco, I have the honor of presenting the compliments and best wishes of her people to you and to the people of your city, and take pleasure in extending an official and hearty invitation to all Californians to participate in the festivities and ceremonies of "San Francisco Day," November 2, which will be memorable both in the history of San Francisco and of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

All Federal offices in San Francisco will remain closed on November 2. Governor Johnson has proclaimed "San Francisco Day" a State holiday. In accordance with the Governor's proclamation all public offices in this city will be closed. Mayors of other California cities have already signified their intention of suggesting that their people visit the Exposition on "San Francisco Day" in as large numbers as possible.

I am writing you, Mr. Mayor, to ask if you will not, through the press of your city, make known our cordial invitation for "San Francisco Day," to the end that all may know of the Welcome San Francisco stands ready to extend.

The program of "San Francisco Day" has been prepared to match the expectation of an Exposition attendance of over 300,000.

A most brilliant pageant, a "Parade of the Nations and States," will take place in the morning.

A realistic land battle between the Army and Navy will occupy a part of the afternoon.

At night the "Monitor" and "Merrimac" will meet in battle, while such fireworks as have never elsewhere been seen will entertain and fascinate the Exposition throngs.

For every hour of the day and evening some novel feature has been arranged; harness, races, aeroplane flights, athletics, concerts, and festivals of dancing in the beautiful Exposition courts.

I might add that the time for viewing the historic Liberty Bell at the Pennsylvania building, at the Exposition, is drawing to a close, and that "San Francisco Day," with exceptionally low railway rates, offers to those who have not yet seen the Liberty Bell a timely opportunity for receiving its inspiration.

I sincerely hope that you can find it possible, personally, to accept this invitation and that the people of your city will honor San Francisco's day of days by participating enthusiastically in its pleasures and festivities.

Yours very sincerely,
JAMES ROLPH, Mayor.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

One of the most encouraging meetings of the Los Angeles Baptist association was held in the First Baptist Church of Monrovia this week. "The attendance at the association," said the Rev. John Troy of the First Baptist Church of Glendale, "was very large and the enthusiasm was great. There has been a constant growth of the church and a wide development of its program in Southern California, where some very fine churches have been built of recent years and where a great deal of excellent institutional work has been accomplished."

"Among the subjects discussed at the convention was the proposal to add 1,000,000 souls to the church by baptism. That is an ambitious program but I have no doubt it will be carried out. The church is daily adding to its membership those who have associated themselves with it after having arrived at years of discretion. Conviction brings them in and one such member is worth ten who attach themselves to a church without due reflection."

"Another proposal was to increase the missionary receipts of the church $6,000,000 annually. That may seem a large sum but it should be easy of accomplishment. At present California raises about $6.00 per capita for missions. That is a wonderful record but I think it can be bettered. The increase of the missionary funds annually by $6,000,000 would mean an increase per capita to $3.00 for the whole of the United States."

"In the middle western states there is room for work on this missionary program. California is unique in its support of all church enterprise. There was much interesting information conveyed to the association as to methods pursued in church work and the delegates returned to their various centers stimulated for the work of the year."

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight; northwest winds.

Adaptability has great significance when possessed by an individual.

JAP COMMITS SUICIDE

NIPPONESE GARDENER DROWNS HIMSELF IN OLD SWIMMING HOLE ON SAN FERNANDO ROAD

Worrying over business matters, T. Tobe, a Japanese truck gardener who resided at the end of Tropico avenue, Tropico, near the river, committed suicide Monday. He has been missing four days. His team and wagon were found wandering on San Fernando road. Search was made for the missing man without result, but this morning a tramp notified the Tropico police department that he had seen a body floating in the swimming pool near the pumping plant. Investigation showed that this was the body of Tobe. The body was taken to Seavern, Letton and Frye's funeral establishment and the funeral will be from that place. The unfortunate man leaves a wife, child and brother to mourn his loss.

GLENDALE AT MISSION PLAY

Thursday was Glendale day at the Mission Play, special through Pacific Electric cars carrying goodly crowds to both afternoon and evening performances, while many others motored to the historic old village of San Gabriel where the Mission Play is produced in a theatre built exclusively for it, in the shadow of the San Gabriel Mission where the very atmosphere breathes of history and romance.

The Mission Play written by California's famous historian, John S. McGroarty, depicts the founding of the Missions of California by the old Spanish padres; shows the missions in the day of their prime and pictures their decline. The whole is an eloquent plea for the restoration of the Missions.

Many Glendale people had previously seen the Mission Play but it proved to have lost none of its charm on second sight. Those who witnessed this great pageant-drama for the first time experienced a feeling common to nearly all who visit the play, one of awe and admiration.

Glendale people did well to do honor to this production which belongs exclusively to the Golden state and will make California's name immortal.

COLUMBUS AVENUE P. T. A.

Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association held a most enjoyable meeting at the school yesterday afternoon. Mrs. McNutt opened the program with a parliamentary drill in her pleasant manner, and this proved entertaining as well as instructive.

Prof. R. D. White spoke in his forceful way on "Are Our Schools Practical?" showing that anything which tended toward the future good citizenship and happiness of our boys and girls was certainly practical. Many of the studies, no doubt, are giving this very training, things learned outside of the school-room also aiding in this education. He also pointed out some places which will be made more practical in the future as people become more aware of the necessity.

It was decided to eliminate an afternoon meeting in November and in its place hold a Fathers' meeting on the evening of November 18, to which all friends and parents of the school are invited.

Announcement was also made of a picture show, to be given in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the Palace Grand by the school. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed after the meeting closed.

BURGLAR GOT FRIGHTENED

While Mrs. C. B. Bryce, 1319 W. Second street, was temporarily away from her home Wednesday, a burglar entered the premises and began a leisurely search for plunder. He pulled out all drawers and opened and searched all closets in the lower half of the house and then ascended the stairs to the second story. Mrs. Bryce's eldest daughter was at the time entirely unconscious that a stranger had entered the house. When the burglar opened the door of her room the girl was naturally alarmed and screamed loudly. The burglar evidently took fright and made his way out of the house as quickly as possible. The police were notified and Officer Arrington was dispatched to the scene but discovered no traces of the man. The police are examining the case.

If Mr. Ford will keep his eyes open while in Southern California he may observe several machines made at his factory.

The Los Angeles man who killed himself through fear of burglars accomplished the feat that the burglars could have done.

PRICELESS TREASURES IN VAULTS
Elaborate precautions against damage by Zeppelins to priceless treasures in the British museum have been taken.
The Elgin room, containing the great Elgin marbles, is closed to the public and the pedimental sculptures of the Parthenon have been removed to a strong room, specially constructed, in the basement. The Parthenon frieze, affixed to the walls, has been elaborately protected with sandbags.

The noted Portland vase, the Rosetta stone and many other relics which cannot be replaced, now repose in safety in the vaults of the great building.
The great lights that once shone brightly in the interior and exterior of the museum have been dimmed to a point where the building more properly resembles a gigantic tomb.

MOVEMENTS IN THE BALKANS

It is very manifest that the Balkans are to be the next scene of sanguinary fighting in Europe. To say that the Germans have shifted their point of assault from Flanders to the borders of Servia is to confess that their "drive" to Calais is a failure. That is not a comforting reflection for the Teuton kaiser. Neither is it comforting to reflect that Von Hindenburg's "drive" in Russian Poland, with its hideous toll of human life, has resulted in nothing more than driving back an army that is still intact and still on the offensive in many important parts of the long line of hostilities. That is but a poor result of more than a year's campaigning, which at the outset was to bring the French capital into possession of the Teutons within fifteen days.

To break out in the direction of Constantinople via Servia is an ambitious program and if it should fail, which is more than likely, it is difficult to see what further move the kaiser can have. Of course, there are other possibilities in the Balkans. In spite of the desires of the people Greece may be forced into opposition to the allies. Roumania, also, might be turned to the kaiser's side; but as far as things look at present, Roumania will not be forgetful of her old allegiance and ties with Russia, and the very worst that Greece may do for herself may be to remain neutral.

Whatever be the outcome of the Balkan crisis, there is no doubt that the center of interest of the war has shifted suddenly from the west to the east. In the west the Franco-British allies are steadily maintaining the pressure on the German lines that, they hope, will ultimately break them at some vital point and sweep the forces of the kaiser out of Belgium.

It is apparent that the present deadlock cannot last. Germany's submarine campaign has been ended by the successful methods employed by the British to catch the undersea boats, while the British submarines have practically destroyed German shipping in the Baltic. The Anglo-French expeditionary force on the Gallipoli peninsula is still keeping what advantage it may have gained there and Anglo-French troops are landing day after day at the Greek port of Saloniki.

Such is the situation at present. Italy is slowly advancing to Trieste. Russia is threatening and in some cases beating German-Austrian forces in Galicia and almost any day should see developments that may end the war. When it does end there are likely to be changes in the map of Europe.

TWILIGHT SLEEP FOR ANIMALS

While the controversy over the "twilight sleep" method of handling obstetrical cases still rages furiously an experiment on a police dog in New York seems to prove the value of that method of anesthesia in the case of animals. "Sherlock," a police dog, a great tracker of burglars and a most valuable member of the police staff, recently was severely injured while chasing a burglar. The animal received a blow on the ear that speedily developed a cyst and occasioned the poor creature exquisite pain. The twilight sleep method was tried on Sherlock and under the influence of the anesthetic the dog, though perfectly conscious, never whimpered, but bore the delicate operation without a movement. It is gratifying to relate that the operation resulted in the complete cure of the dog. Whatever may be thought of the "twilight sleep" there is now a record of many successful operations on animals while under its influence and it would appear to be premature to condemn its use for human beings, especially as its originators in Germany have been uniformly successful in its use.

Children's Bank Accounts

Teaching children the value of money is a very important part of their education. Thrift does not come at our beck and call, nor can it be slipped on or off like an old coat. It is established by practice rather than theory—by example more than precept.

Girls as well as boys should be encouraged to earn money by real service and both should early learn what banks are for and how money grows when it is planted in the right soil, so to speak.

THE BANK OF GLENDALE encourages children's accounts and pays the largest rate of interest consistent with good banking.

The remains will be taken to Quincy, Ill., for interment.

Al Jennings, the converted bandit, who joined the Baptist Church in Glendale, under the ministry of the Rev. John Troy, has been doing excellent work in Brooklyn, N. Y., in connection with the Summer Avenue church there. His work has proved of so much value that it attracted the attention of some Canadian people who heard him, with the result that he has made an engagement to undertake an evangelistic campaign in Toronto, Canada, whither he goes Monday, to speak in the First Baptist Church, which is at present enjoying the ministry of the famous Dr. Philpotts.

Miss Mattie Belle and Miss Bessie Provolt, 508 N. Central, entertained Thursday at luncheon in honor of Miss Pearl King of Los Angeles, who will be a November bride. The rooms were tastefully decorated with green foliage and yellow and white chrysanthemums. The guests were chiefly friends from Los Angeles. The centerpiece was an altar with a bridal party. The place cards and the score cards were hand-painted. Miss Pearl King won the guest-of-honor prize and Mrs. Winter and Miss Myrtle King won the prizes for high scores.

IN SESSION AT PASADENA

The Los Angeles District meeting of the Congregational Woman's Missionary Society was held Thursday at Pasadena, at the Church of the Neighborhood, corner of Pasadena avenue and Los Angeles street. There was a large attendance of delegates and much interesting work was planned for the coming season. The delegates from Glendale Congregational Church were, Mrs. W. D. McRae, Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke and Mrs. W. C. Alvord.

Villa, it is said, will be given asylum in this country. It might be necessary to place him in the violent ward.

Of course munition factories will blow up occasionally, but a concert of explosions weakens the theory of accident.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. D. A. Watt of 1311 Valley View road and Mrs. M. B. Wilson of the Casa Blanca Apts. on North Brand Blvd. attended the Woman's Foreign Missionary Convention of the M. E. Church at Trinity Auditorium on Thursday, as delegates from the Casa Verdugo First M. E. Church Woman's Foreign Missionary society, of which Mrs. Watt is president.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olmstead and daughter Lois of 1431 North Pacific avenue, with Mrs. A. B. Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue, who went with them as their guest, returned Wednesday evening from an automobile trip to San Diego, where they enjoyed visiting the fair, also other interesting places near by. The party reported a very pleasant and profitable trip.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cresson Mueller of 926 Fairview avenue to a Halloween party, to be given Saturday evening. The event is an annual affair with a number of their friends, the party of last year being given by Mrs. Cedric Hall at her home in Los Angeles.

Of much interest to the members of the Casa Verdugo M. E. Church is the announcement that Miss Anna B. Slate, a missionary to Japan, now on a furlough, will speak at the Casa Verdugo church on Sunday morning at the regular 11 o'clock service. Miss Slate comes here under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society and Mrs. B. A. Watt, president of the local society, will preside at this meeting. TROPICO

Maj. J. J. Weiler and daughter, Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin, of West Acaia street, were very pleasantly surprised Thursday, when Mel H. Weiler, son and brother of the genial major and Mrs. Griffin, arrived with Mrs. Weiler and daughters, Misses Emma Lee, Melba and Lena Weiler, for an extended visit in Tropico. Mr. and Mrs. Weiler and daughters left their home in Johnson City, Tenn., several months ago and motored to New York, where they visited throughout the state. Motoring westward they visited in Ohio, Indiana, Kansas, Colorado and then traveling over the old Santa Fe Trail motored to California. The entire journey from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific Coast has been one of increasing interest and much pleasure to Mr. Weiler and family.

Mrs. James R. Maxwell of West Park avenue left for San Francisco the first of the week, accompanying Mrs. M. T. Parshall and Miss Lenora Parshall of Los Angeles, who motored to the northern city. Some time will be spent in San Francisco by this party, who will not only visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition but other points of interest around the Bay City.

The Tropico fire department was called out about six o'clock last evening when a small blaze was discovered in the rear of a vacant house on West Palmer avenue. The fire was extinguished, with a small loss to the owner, Dr. S. A. Pollock. The origin of the fire is unknown. The prompt action and effective work of the fire department prevented the fire spreading to adjoining buildings, and much praise is given Chief Gould and his men.

BEFITTING THE SEASON

In keeping with the Halloween season a very pleasant little party was given by Miss Elizabeth Smith at her home, 711 S. Brand, Thursday evening. The rooms were tastefully decorated with the symbols of Halloween—witches, broomsticks, cats, bats and all the other mystic signs of the weird season when the spirits of the air are abroad. The charming hostess had provided a program of varied entertainment for her guests and added to the enjoyment by her own hospitality and grace. Those present were: The Misses Ethel Preston, Mildred Keogh, Viola Schonfeldt, Helen Robertson, Elsie Tyler, Ruby Farnsworth and Dorothy Stanton; Joe Brown, Herbert Brown, Jesse Goldthwaite, Fred Sanford, Roy Smith, Ernest Schuyler, Doris Smith, Russell Stanton and Lester McNiven. The evening was spent in the usual Halloween games, with fortune-telling and other amusements. Dainty refreshments added to the enjoyment of the party.

BAPTISTS HAVE LARGE REPRESENTATION

The regularly appointed delegates from the Glendale church to the Los Angeles Baptist Association reached the number of eleven this year, which shows a large increase of membership in the church, the representation being based on membership. The following are the duly appointed delegates: Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury, Mr. O. A. Lane, Mrs. C. H. Cunningham, Mrs. Robert Morse, Mr. C. E. Damerell, Mr. J. A. Cole, Mr. J. M. Banker, Atty. Sprowls, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Rev. J. H. Troy. Other members of the congregation are attending the meetings.

ANNUAL PRAISE SERVICE

What has always been considered a most interesting feature of the church year, the Annual Praise Service of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church, will be held in that church Sunday, Oct. 31, at 11 p. m. The Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church, will have charge of the service. Mr. Charles A. Grunz, superintendent of the Silliman Institute, Philippine Islands, will give an address. Miss Irwin and the choir will present a program of special music.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Farrell of 123 East Broadway, Glendale, were dinner guests Thursday evening of Mrs. Mary Edwards and her daughter, Miss Helen Cooper, on Gratton St., Los Angeles. Mrs. Edwards and daughter were former residents of Glendale.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO DIE TO BE PAID

Our AVERAGE Claim Has Been PAID In Less Than FIVE Years

HOW DO WE DO IT?

BECAUSE OUR RATES ARE ADEQUATE,—Compare them with the rates of ANY Old Line Company. And BECAUSE of our PLAN, owned, copy-righted and operated exclusively by this Society.

WE Pay Out NO MORE Money, nor do we pay it out any oftener than does ANY OTHER Society or Life Company.

The HERALDS OF LIBERTY, through the operation of its PLAN, distributes its reserve Fund Accumulations to the LIVING,—by paying a LIVING claim every time that it pays a Death Claim instead of hoarding in EXCESS of ALL Needs, MILLIONS of SURPLUS that belongs to policy-holders and which should be returned to them.

If you will INVESTIGATE this wonderful PLAN of true LIFE insurance, you will be CONVINCED of the superior advantages it has over ALL other forms of insurance, by ANY OTHER Society or Life Insurance Company in existence today.

department's answer quoted the following order of 1901, which is still in force:

"The Department of State, in an instruction to the United States Consul at Lourenco Marques, during the Boer war, held that an American citizen who wilfully takes up arms in the service of a foreign state must bear the consequences of his act, and cannot expect, while he serves under a foreign banner, to be protected by this government."

Previous to receipt of this instruction, inquiry by the embassy at the British war office, elicited the statement that the British government was unwilling to release American adults who have taken the King's oath.

So American fighters must keep on fighting until death or peace musters them out.

RAYMOND'S LECTURE

No one should fail to hear the last lecture of the University Extension course. We know something of Switzerland and its wonderful government of the people and by the people, but to see its wonderful mountains and mountain passes, its lakes and glaciers, will be something never to be forgotten. This will be the best lecture of the series. Don't forget the time, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the High School.

REBEKAH LODGE NO. 257

Quite a pleasant evening was spent by the sisters of Rebekah Lodge, Carnation No. 257, Tuesday evening. The regular business was dispatched and the nan informal reception was held in honor of fifteen visiting sisters from San Fernando lodge. Games were played and delicious refreshments served. The visiting sisters declared they had had so good a time that they would soon return.

CAN GET NO RELEASE

Adult Americans whose adventurous spirits tempted them to enlist in European belligerent armies must remain soldiers until they are killed or the war is ended.

This is the situation confronting scores of Uncle Sam's citizens who have had their fill of war and want to get out. Uncle Sam can't help them, though many have requested his mediation. The British war office will not release the Americans it has enlisted.

The American embassy in London, which has been successful in having between fifty and sixty American minors released from British military service, could not extend this service to the adults.

In answer to many appeals from men who joined the Canadians and who have survived hard fighting, the embassy passed the question to the State department at Washington. The

MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS IN THE SOUTH

Unfortunate educational conditions in some parts of the South have given rise to a race of people who "never had a chance" as the saying is. The descendants of an old, sturdy, British stock in the mountains of Georgia and North Carolina have gradually lost touch of the old education that was the heritage of their forefathers. Stranded, as it were, in a country that was shut off from civilizing influences, the mountaineers gradually shut themselves up with their growing ignorance and kept the stranger religiously out of their midst.

No railroads came in to open up the country and the mountaineer gradually became a curious compound of hardy courage, lawlessness and illiteracy, yet not without many warm human traits and vague longings for the paradise of learning he had lost. There have been many attempts made to break down the exclusiveness of the mountaineer and introduce him to a better life. Many of these have failed; but others have had merit and have succeeded.

Bit by bit the mountains have been invaded by a growing culture and the mountaineer, with the advent of railroads, has begun to brighten up and make himself like other people. One of the most recent plans to aid the people of North Carolina has been formulated by Governor Craig of that state, who has fathered a program for November "Moonlight Schools." Moonlight schools are certainly of a more highly educative value than moonlight whisky. Having tried the whiskey and found it a failure the mountaineer may well try the schools. He will find them wonderful in their effect and will see his district gradually change under the new system into a land of order and decency.

In a state-wide appeal Governor Craig points out that there are in North Carolina 12,000 persons more than 10 years of age who can neither read nor write. This, he says, is because they "have had no chance," having been handicapped by inadequate school facilities in North Carolina after the war.

Governor Craig's plan is to institute schools for adult, white, illiterate men and women. These schools will be held throughout the state every evening after work hours. On clear, moonlight nights the classes will be held out-of-doors. This feature is certain to recommend itself to the mountaineer, who loves the open air. In this he resembles the Egyptian, the Arab and other outdoor tribes who invariably hold their schools under a spreading tree. There is great promise to the plan. It is certainly better to try something than to allow the old illiteracy to remain. Illiteracy is as great a menace to the nation as disease.
